Introduction

Medical waste discovered on Lake Michigan's shore in 1988 led to the enactment of the Medical Waste Regulatory Act of 1990, Part 138 of 1978 PA 368, as amended (MWRA). The MWRA controls the handling, storage, treatment, transportation, and disposal of regulated medical waste from its generation to its ultimate disposal. Each medical waste producing facility is required to register with the department and to have a written medical waste management plan. The goal of an effective medical waste management program is to protect human health and the environment from exposure to the hazards posed by infectious waste. Education and training are key ingredients to successful implementation of any new regulatory program.

Over the years there has been confusion and misunderstanding among the generators regarding which medical items used in a facility, upon discard, should be managed as regulated medical waste or non-regulated medical waste. Many well intentioned interpretations concerning medical waste items led to ongoing confusion among health care providers. This document represents the effort to promote a better understanding and clarification of the medical waste stream for all of the state's medical waste generators and handlers.

Medical Waste Legally Defined

As defined in the MWRA regulated "medical waste" means any of the following that are not generated from a household, a farm operation or other agricultural business, a home for the aged, or a home health care agency:

- Cultures and stocks of infectious agents and associated biologicals, including laboratory waste, biological production wastes, discarded live and attenuated vaccines, cultures dishes, and related devices;
- 2. Liquid human and animal waste, including blood and blood products and body fluids, but not including urine or materials stained with blood or body fluids:
- Pathological waste including human organs, tissues, body parts other than teeth, products of conception, fluids removed by trauma or during surgery or autopsy or other medical procedure, and not fixed in formaldehyde;
- 4. Sharps specified as needles, syringes, scalpels, and intravenous tubing with needles attached; and
- Contaminated wastes from animals that have been exposed to agents infectious to humans, these being primarily research animals.

Explanation of Format

Throughout this directory, items used in a variety of patient care and veterinary settings, and other services have been categorized to facilitate rapid selection and identification for disposal decision-making purposes by one of several means.

Section I

- Alphabetical listing of all items.
- Most comprehensive.
- Locate using common (generic), technical, and/or trade name.

Section II

- Alphabetical listing of items/devices by care/specialty.
- Facilitates identification of items commonly used in a specific setting.
- If unable to locate item in this section, see Section I for a complete alphabetical listing.

Table Format

- A number of items listed in the directory are considered regulated medical waste only if they have become contaminated during use.
- The designation "saturated with blood" indicates that an item must be considered regulated medical waste if it contains free-flowing or dripping blood, or if blood is dried, would flake off during handling and disposal.
- Items designated "stained or no blood" are considered nonregulated medical waste (or regular solid waste) and may be discarded along with regular waste.
- Some items, regardless of medical waste categorization, may contain other hazardous materials requiring additional special handling and disposal practices (e.g., radioactive materials).
 Please refer to specific regulatory requirements prior to disposal of such materials.

- *REGULATED BY MICHIGAN'S OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH ADMINISTRATION (MIOSHA) items which have additional handling and/or disposal requirements consistent with the MIOSHA Bloodborne Infectious Diseases standard (e.g., disposal of needles, syringes, sharps, regardless of contamination with blood or body fluids).
- CHECK WITH MANUFACTURER refers to medications which may require special handling prior to disposal based on the manufacturer's guidelines.
- SHARPS CONTAINER (S.C.) discard items in a rigid, punctureresistant container as they could result in handler-injury if discarded improperly.

Guidance for Use

- It should be noted that the directory was based on current regulations at the time of this writing, and the regulations are subject to change in the future.
- Although every effort has been made to include items, supplies, and devices used in health care and veterinary settings, other items not specified may also be included in either the regulated medical waste or regular waste categories.
- When in doubt of the recommended disposal practice for a selected item, the care setting should err on the side of caution when making waste segregation decisions.
- Direct any questions or concerns regarding the categorization of medical items to the Medical Waste Regulatory Program by emailing us at: medicalwaste@michigan.gov, or phoning us at: 517-284-6594, or by writing to: Michigan Department of Environmental Quality, Solid Waste Section, Medical Waste Regulatory Program, 525 West Allegan Street, P.O. Box 30241, Lansing, Michigan 48909-7741.

We sincerely hope this document promotes a better understanding and clarification of the medical waste stream for all of Michigan's medical waste generators and handlers.
