How New Era Institute of Learning, LLC Explains Their Tutoring Program, in Their Own Words:

New Era Institute of Learning has an extensive record in providing intensive, small group supplemental instruction to children who are at-risk academically. We have been effective in raising the achievement levels of students served in all of our programs. Students with disabilities and students who are English Language Learners are a significant part of our population. New Era’s SES program offers direct and guided language arts and mathematics instruction in a non-threatening environment with State-certified teachers who have been trained in scientifically rooted teaching techniques. High expectations for student’s performance, a professionally developed staff, strong supervision and a result-oriented work ethic define our program model. To ensure that instruction is individually guided, New Era uses diagnostic and comprehensive assessments to identify strengths and weaknesses of all students, this ensures that maximum student achievement takes place in the tutoring sessions.
