

Section 5

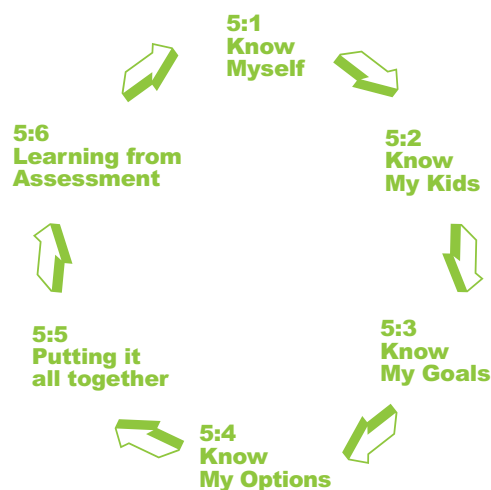

Designing and Delivering Instruction

Steering Instruction

- 5:1 Knowing Yourself as an Educator
- 5:2 Knowing Your Students
- 5:3 Knowing Your Goals: Standards
- 5:4 Knowing Your Options: Instructional Strategies
- 5:5 Putting It All Together: Lesson Planning
- 5:6 Learning from Assessment
- 5:7 Connecting Assessment to Student Achievement and Program Improvement for English Language Learners
- 5:8 Designing and Delivering Effective Instruction: How can we best meet the needs of our English Language Learners?
- 5:9 Developing English Language Proficiency

Folks, pull on your driving goggles and start your engines! With all the preparation under our seatbelts, it's time for the artists/ professionals among us to take the wheel...to do what we've been called to do: to bend down low, look into the eyes of a child and find the invitation that calls out a desire to learn. This is what it's all about.

We've identified six stages to skillful instructional design and delivery, and there's a MI-Map packet for individual teachers or grade-level or subject-matter teams who want to focus down and get better at any one of the stages.

Deepen your conversations about teaching and learning!

