Dear Landowner:

On September 5, 2001, Lakehead Pipe Line changed its name to Enbridge Energy Partners. The name change will better align Lakehead within the affiliated Enbridge international group of companies, who owns part of the Lakehead Partnership, and take advantage of the strength and reputation of the Enbridge brand name.

Soon you will begin seeing our new name, Enbridge or Enbridge Energy Partners, on such facilities as our buildings, vehicles, pipeline markers, correspondences, and employee hard hats. We also have a new internet address, which is www.enbridgepartners.com.

Even though our company has a new name, Enbridge Energy Partners, we still have the same reputation for service, safety and excellence. Our commitment to our landowners, tenants and communities along our pipeline route remains the same as it has for over 50 years - to safely, reliably and economically transport and store hydrocarbon liquids to serve the public's energy needs. Our relationship with you will not change with our name change.

Enbridge Energy Partners takes its responsibility for pipeline safety seriously. We have a comprehensive maintenance program, including computerized monitoring, routine inspections, aerial patrols of rights-of-way and education outreach to landowners and excavators.

Being responsible for pipeline safety, however, does not mean working alone. You can help us by being aware of some important information.

- Please be aware of our pipeline(s) located on your property and please coordinate any activity on the pipeline right-of-way with us.
- Dig Safely - Call your state excavation one-call number before you dig; wait the required amount of time; respect the markers; and dig with care.
- Call our 24-hour Emergency Number, 1-800-858-5253, if you suspect a pipeline emergency. This is the same emergency 800 number for the pipeline system noted on items sent to you in the past.

We value the relationships we have with you and are excited to share with you our new name - Enbridge Energy Partners. If you have any questions, please call our Right-of-Way Department at 218-725-0131.

Sincerely,
